TORONTO TIDINGS

On December 30th, Mr. Harry E. Grooms was apprised of the death of his favorite brother, Mr. Raymond Grooms and Harry left at once for Napanee. His brother was a very clever and promising young man and was for over ten years in the going home, he developed pneumonia which terminated in his death on the above date in his forty-fourth year. The funeral took place on January 1st, and was very largely attended. To friend, Harry and other relatives, we extend sincere sympathy.

Your correspondent now enters upon his seventh year as Canadian reporter for this JOURNAL.

About thirty of our young friends spent the evening of December 29th, at the I. O. O. F. building on College St., in a very jovial way dancing and playing cards under the leadership of Mr. Silas Baskerville.

Mr. Bruce Yarrow, of Belleville, is now visiting in this city, and if he can get work here he will stay. He graduated from the Belleville School last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Rooney enjoyed their Christmas frolic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell in Birch Cliffe.

Mr. Duncan Pike, a very wealthy uncle of Mr. Fred Parson's died in this city, on December 22d, in his eighty-second year. He came here from Newfoundland forty-three years ago, and was a devoted Christian, and often taught friend Fred the meanings of the Scriptures. By his death, Fred may inherit a little fortune.

Mrs. Eva Vanvalin was down in our midst over the New Year's holidays and we were pleased to note she is looking so well. She says that Mrs. W. E. Johnson, for whom she keeps house in Barrie, is the same as usual and very cheerful.

Our service on Sunday, January 1st, was jointly conducted by the Rev. D. M. Ramsay and Mr. W. H. Johnston, an elder of the church. It was Rev. Mr. Ramsay's and Mr. Johnston's first appearance in our church, and both were deeply impressed at what they saw and spoke very encouragingly of our steady progress, and referred to our building as a marvel in every way. Mrs. J. R. Byrne interpreted for all three, and Dr. Ramsay's sermon was a treat to all. Mesdames H. Whealy and W. R. Watt sweetly rendered, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Being representatives from the East Toronto Presbytery, the three visitors, on their request, meet our Board of trustees in a body and gave us some valuable information for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell, of Birch Cliffe, had the pleasure of entertaining the latter's parents from Trenton for a few days before Christmas. The Bells are great entertainers at their cosy home at the Cliffe.

Mrs. N. Moore and Mrs. M. Wilson returned to this city, on December 28th, from their stay in Simcoe of several weeks, and will again be leaving for other parts.

Mr. M. D. McLaren, of Renfrew, came up to this city, on December 30th, to take home his deaf daughter, Miss Theresa McLaren, who had been here for over five weeks, learning to master our ways of conversation.

Mr. Walter Brown spent the New Year's holidays with his brother here leaving on January 4th, for his home in Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGovern, of Chatham, were visiting the former's parents here during the recent Yuletide holidays and a party was held in their honor by several of their young schoolmates.

Miss May Cunningham, of the MacKay School staff of Montreal, called on friends here while on her way back from a Christmas visit to her people in Oakville.

After the funeral of their brother, the late John C. McLaren, Mr. Alexander McLaren, Jr., of Schenectady, N. Y., and his sister, Mrs. Marshall, of Flint, Mich., accompanied their sister, Miss Mary McLaren, back to their old home at Smith's Falls, Ont., to comfort their aged father in his sore bereavement, before returning to their respective homes. These three and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Timpson, of Long Branch, acted like true angels throughout the illness and subsequent death of their late brother and cousin. Blessed are the merciful for they shall obtain mercy.

Miss Bessie McGovern returned to her studies at the Belleville School on January 3d, after spending the Yuletide recess with her parents here.

We held an open house in our parish house and church basement on January 2d, and those who were there had a good time, in whatever pleasure they preferred. Most of them brought in lunches and with hot drinks served free, it became a family picnic. After supper a soft baseball game was staged and keenly contested by two picked teams, captained respectively by Mrs. Henry Whealy and Mrs. W. R. Watt, resulting in a victory for the former by a score of 18 to 8, due to Miss Ruth Byrne's good hitting. On two separate occasions she sent the "pill" careening to the furthest corner and before it could be retrieved this little maiden had dashed around the circuit like a fleet-footed gazelle, driving in a few base-warmers ahead of her. As she scampered home she was greeted by the onlookers with hugs and cheers. Ruth is a dyed-in-the-wool little sport.

Our Epworth League opened the New Year with a very interesting address on "Our greatest comfort will be in the coming of Jesus," given by Mr. Fred Terrell on January 4th. It was a masterly address and very clearly given. Mr. Terrell has the same slow open gestures, that were so characteristic of his illustrious uncle, the late Mr. William Nurse. Mr. Terrell will continue at these meetings for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bridgeford, of Dundas, were in the city on business on January 4th.

A farewell presentation was made to Mrs. Walter Bell on January 3d, in the basement of our church, and she was given a beautiful Japanese vase as a token from her friends here. About thirty turned out and all had an enjoyable time during the rest of the evening in all kinds of games, followed by light refreshments. The Bell family moved to Oshawa, on January 5th, where we hope they will prosper, though they will be much missed here, where they had resided for many years.

At the municipal elections held here on January 2d, Mr. George Bridgen was again returned for the Board of Education. He is a son of the late Mr. F. Bridgen. Mr. Andrew Hazlett, brother-in-law of Miss Ethel Griffith, was returned as one of the councillors in Forest Village. Congratulations to both.

Miss Pearl Hermon, who has been living with the Bell family on Durie Street, for a long-time, was obliged to seek another place when the Bells moved to Oshawa. She is now living on Geoffrey Street in Parkdale.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR

During the week between Christmas and New Year's Day, two very interesting and pretty weddings occurred in one family that may interest many of our Canadian readers.

On December 27, 1927, Miss Jane Wedderburn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wedderburn, of Howland Avenue, Toronto, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Harry Alexander, also of Toronto. The Rev. W. A. McTaggart tied the nuptial knot. After a brief wedding trip, the happy couple left for their new home in Detroit, Mich., where our best wishes follow for a long, happy connubial life. Mr. Alexander is a machinist and commands a good position.

Not to be outdone by his sister, Mr. William Herbert Wedderburn decided to shake off the monotony of single blessedness and follow in the path of married bliss, so on December 31st of the year just gone, he led to the altar Miss Maude Gillespie, a charming young lady of Toronto.

Again the Rev. W. A. McTaggart was called to tie the second family knot. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wedderburn may also make their future home in Detroit. We hope their future will be blessed with all that we can wish.

Both Mrs. Alexander and Mr. Wedderburn are very well known and much liked by the deaf, though not deaf themselves, and can talk in our language fluently.

HE SUFFERS NO MORE

It was stated in your last issue that Mr. John McLaren was hanging on to life by a thread at St. Joseph's Hospital. Now he is no more. Hardly had my last batch of news been sent off for last week's issue than the news came flashing over the wires that the sufferer had breathed his last, after a month of intense pain, borne with Christlike fortitude. For a month he had lingered in this hospital, following an operation for ulcers of the stomach. At first, there were signs that he might recover, but as time wore on his case turned the other way and became more acute. When his brother, Alexander, Jr., of Schenectady, N. Y., and his sister, Mrs. John Marshall, of Flint, Mich., and Miss Mary McLaren, of Smith's Falls, learned of the seriousness of his case, they hastened to his bedside and remained with him to the end, administering all the help and care they could give, and were assisted in this angelic work by their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Timpson, of Long Branch, but despite all this and the best of medical skill, the Angel of Death had its way. At 8:15 p.m., on December 31st, just as the old year was about to depart, the last spark in this young life had flickered out, and our friend, John, had gone to dwell forever in that sphere of perpetual love and beauty with his mother, whom many will remember when at the Belleville school as Miss Rachel McEwan, of Osgoode Station, and who crossed the Great Divide on December 19, 1910. The late John Charles McLaren was the second son of Mr. Alexander and the late Mrs. McLaren, of Smith Falls, and was born on March 1st, 1895. At an early age he left to attend the Belleville School, the same institution as did his parents, brother, George, and sisters, Mary and Rachel. John graduated in 1910 and since then had been in many parts of Canada and the United States. He is survived by a sorrowing father, two brothers, Alexander, Jr., of Schenectady, N. Y., and George, of Dysart, Sask., and two sisters, Miss Mary, of Smith Falls, and Rachel, now Mrs. John Marshall, of Flint, Mich. His brother, Daniel, died less than a year ago. The funeral took place on January 2d, from Raycroft's undertaking parlors at New Toronto to Park Lawn Cemetery, Toronto, and was attended by a good number of his sorrowing friends, Messrs. Asa Forrester, James Tate, John S. Bartley and H. W. Roberts and two hearing friends acted as pallbearers. As no minister appeared at the cemetery, H. W. Roberts said the last solemn rites, though a clergyman gave a touching sermon in deceased's memory before the cortege left the undertaker's parlors. Owing to the injury that befell him some time ago, Mr. Alexander McLaren, Sr., could not attend the funeral of his beloved son, which made the scene all the more pathetic, but the deceased's brother and two sisters looked after these arrangements in a most satisfactory way. The late John C. McLaren was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaren, of Long Branch, also of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Ormiston and George McLaren, of Raglan, all of whom attended the Belleville and old Hamilton school in the long ago.

SARNIA SAYINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson had Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood McBrien as their guests on Christmas Day to share up the fat turkey which Mr. Henderson got as a present from his employers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, of Dresden, were up with the latter's parents here for Christmas, as was also their sister, Miss Alice Leckie from Detroit. Mr. George Henderson, of Talbotville, brother of Jontie Henderson, of this city, had an auction sale on his farm on December 14th, and will dispose of his farm in the Spring, but as yet we don't know where they will go.

WYOMING WAVES

Mr. and Mrs. William Wark motored down to Strathroy the other day and spent a pleasant time with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, with Mr. and Mrs. Elwood McBrien, were down from Sarnia, and spent a very pleasant time with the Wark family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wark and daughter, Jean, were recent guests of Miss Edith Squires at her parents' beautiful home near Petrolia. They found Edith very well and enjoying her share of this world's pleasures.

Mr. Arthur C. White, of Strathroy, was visiting the Warks here for a few days lately.

Imagine our surprise when Mr. and Mrs. Percy Scott, who have been living in Western Canada, dropped in unexpectedly upon us on December 29th, and remained for tea before proceeding on to Sarnia to visit relatives. We were so glad to see them again. Mrs. Scott was formerly Miss Olive Hartwick, of Napanee, and with their child are now on a visit to relatives down in Ontario.

We wish all our friends everywhere the season's compliments, and may heaven send them happiness their hours to cheer and bless.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Miss Sylvia Foster, of Dunnville, is now employed at the Dominion New Fabric factory in that town and is well pleased with her work.

Miss Annie Dalgleish, of Sault Ste. Marie, is the latest to send in her subscription for the JOURNAL. We are glad to hear she and Miss Jennie Couse are doing fine up in that northern city.

On his way down from Horning Mills to Brighton, Mr. Thomas Daud stopped over in Toronto, to look up his old schoolmates, for a couple of days just before Christmas.

Among the Christmas greeting messages coming to "Mora Glen," was one from our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Bertram, of Seattle, Wash. We assure you, Jack, that ever since you left the vortex of our neighborhood, we have been thinking of you.

Here is a chance for a good young deaf man with knowledge of farming to obtain steadily work at good wages, with good board thrown in. Mr. Thomas Middleton would like to engage a good hand to assist him on the farm right away. Any one wishing to hire out with him should get in touch with him at once. Address him R. R. 3, Shelburne, Ont.

Miss Gladys M. Atkinson, of Paisley, was the first one to send in her subscription for the JOURNAL with the New Year. It came in on January 2d, with the following note: "Enclosed please find my subscription for DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. I never took the JOURNAL before but I took the Canadian, but I think the JOURNAL is far ahead as regards the news. I am sure the 'Canadian News' in it is alone worth its subscription." Thank you, Gladys, for such a compliment.

In writing to your scribe on December 31st last, Mr. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, who is one of your reporter's most intimate pals, said he was not going to write to the latter any more this year. For a moment Mr. Roberts stood perplexed, wondering what in all the world had caused this rupture between such good ties of kindred friendship, but on looking at the date his gloomy countenance suddenly changed to a blushing smile. This good joke had caught the reporter cold.

We are sending this to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL mainly for the Akron District because so many of our people up there are not Ohioans, in the sense that they never attended our school and so naturally do not take the Chronicle, through which medium we keep the rest informed of our progress. In this connection, we wish to say that the Gallaudet College Chapter up there raised $125 and the Owls $100.

OHIO.

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Meyer were shocked to learn of her death, January 7th, at her home in Cleveland, following a short illness. Few knew that she was ill. She had pneumonia and that brought on complications, causing her death. She was a widow and is survived by one daughter and four small grandchildren, with whom she lived. Funeral services were conducted January 9th, at the Riverside Cemetery Chapel by Rev. Collins Sawhill. Being a well-known deaf lady, the funeral was largely attended.

Mrs. Meyer will be greatly missed in Cleveland, as she was an ardent worker for the St. Agnes Mission and the Cleveland Ladies' Aid Society, of which she had long been a faithful member, and we believe she was a charter member of this society. She was educated at the Pennsylvania School.

Mr. William J. Dundon, brother of Mrs. Samuel Corbett, of Bellaire, died January 4th, at this home in Columbus. The late Mrs. Nellie Dundon Neutzing was also a sister. Mr. Dundon belonged to an old Columbus family and was well known, as for thirty years he was in the Columbus Fire Department.

Dr. Robert Patterson had the pleasure of a visit from his son, Prof. Donald Patterson, and his family during the holidays. Prof. Patterson is at the head of the Psychological Department at the Minnesota State University.

The Ohio basketball team, under the able direction of Mr. Albert Ohle macher, is doing its best to be ready to meet the Michigan team at the latter school on January 28th. The boys are hoping to make the trip in automobiles, but the weather may cause them to take a train. Either way it will be a fine trip for the boys.

February 10th and 11th, the girls' team from the Indiana school will be at the Ohio school to battle with the girls' team here. The Ohio girls' team does not seem to be a very strong one and lacks good coaching to improve their playing.

Later in February comes the big basketball tournament at the Jacksonville, Ill., school, taking in the Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio schools. Such tournaments are red-letter days for the boys, whether they carry off the honors or not.

For many years Prof. Wm. H. Zorn has been the only one bearing that name in the Ohio school, but at present another Mr. Zorn has bobbed up in the bakery, and while not related to the professor, he is proving a satisfactory baker.

In the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL of January 5th, was an article entitled "Extracts from a Very Interesting Article," taken from the Encyclopedia Britannica. We hope every reader of the JOURNAL read the article and that every one connected with the education of the deaf not only read it, but gave it thought. Whoever was the author, he knew and understood the needs of the deaf child.

Gratifying reports are heard of the Cleveland Mission work at St. Agnes' Church, of which Mr. P. Munger is clerk. At their bazaar in December, about $400 was cleared. Although this did not equal last year's result, it was considered good as there are so many out of employment now.

A merchandising company offered prizes to West Side churches in Cleveland in a food contest, and St. Agnes' Mission, through Mr. Howard Judd, who proved to be a hustler, entered and came out as winner of the third prize—$181.73.

Mr. Judd also secured 155 new bank accounts, totalling $7,000, half of which belong to deaf depositors. After the contest, Mr. Judd was offered a job by the president of the bank as a new solicitor. The banker, no doubt, recognized a good worker when he saw one, but Mr. Judd preferred to remain at his job as a printer. Yet he must have felt highly flattered.

Jan. 11, 1928.

BUFFALO

Buffalo Division No. 40, held its regular monthly meeting on Saturday evening, January 7th, at Crescent Hall. The principal business before the meeting was the installation of the officers elected at the December meeting—Frank Krahling, President; Harry Slater, Vice-President; Walter F. Carl (re-elected), Secretary; James Coughlin (re-elected), Treasurer; George Langford, Sergeant-at-Arms; Michael Crane, Director; and Trustee Felix Nowak. President Krahling appointed Bro. John Burmeister to be a messenger for the President of the Frat meeting. We hopes that president Krahling will handle the business matters with tact and judgment, and make this Frat a Society success for the coming year.

Brother James Coughlin, Treasurer (re-elected), has been a faithful and noble watch-dog and has made a splendid record in collecting the members' dues for the past five years.

The Div. No. 40, has been unable to secure more desirable quarters, and so has been compelled to renew the lease of Crescent Hall for the coming year.

Bro. Mr. George Langford and his wife of Buffalo spent one week's holiday with George's sister in Rochester, N. Y., and reported an enjoyable time there.

Some members of Buffalo deafdom have recently enjoyed trips by bus, trolley or auto, to Niagara Falls, N. Y. The Falls, enrobed as they are in ice, are even more beautiful at this time of year than during the summer, and the various bus and trolley lines daily carry thousands of people to behold this truly magnificent spectacle.

Buffalo is a great city and has been increased in population, and few cities can equal the many fine buildings—churches, lodges, business blocks and private homes, public schools, Deaf-Mute Institute, college buildings, etc., the beautiful system of parks and boulevards, the splendid bus and trolley lines, airport and lake harbor, of which Buffalo may boast.

Construction work on both the new City Hall, and the new Union Station, the latter to be at Lovejoy and Curtiss Streets, near Fillmore Ave., will get under way in the early spring. It is estimated that construction of each will take at least two years. When completed, the City Hall, which is to be white marble, will be unbelievably beautiful.

Bro. N. G. Gorenflo of Buffalo made a splendid run to Binghamton and return along the same route, in his "Chrysler" automobile, November 26th. He is proud of the time—six hours per trip. He took Brother James Coughlin and several Frat members down to witness the birth of New York State's tenth division, which Grand President Gibson installed.

Bro. Gorenflo is a good, careful driver, and made the two trips with nary a bit of trouble—mechanical or otherwise. It is drivers of just such a stamp that we need to convince the general public that they are really doing the deaf world an injustice in depriving or attempting to deprive us of our rights as drivers.

A beautiful bridge has recently been erected across the Niagara River between Buffalo and Port Erie, Canada, to celebrate one hundred years of peace between the two countries. It has been named the Peace Bridge. The Prince of Wales, and Premier Baldwin of England, Vice President Dawes and Secretary of State Kellogg, were present. The Peace Bridge was opened to public traffic on the morning of June 1st, 1927.

It is reported that Buffalo has won the privilege and honor of entertaining the delegates to the N. A. D. Convention in about 1930. We welcome you, members of the N. A. D., and promise you a truly royal time.

PACIFIC NORTHERN SERVICES FOR THE DEAF

REV. OLOF HANSON, MISSIONARY
Seattle—1st and 3d Sunday, 3 P.M. St. Mark's.

Portland, Oregon

Mr. Wm. Sain, or better known as Buddie among the deaf in Portland, is again here, after some years away in California, Idaho, Montana, and other places. Mr. Sain was the man who caused Eddie Sullivan's arrest here last fall.

Mr. Sain is a pleasant man to meet and we will be glad to have him stay in the Rose City.

Mr. Wirth spend his vacation in Seattle during the holidays, he was gone ten days. He took in the Watch Night Party while in the Sound City. He came back somewhat fatter and also looked happier after his ten days' visit with friends. Mr. Wirth also went there on important business, as well as pleasure. Mr. Wirth is a widower, having lost his wife over a year ago, after which he went to Chicago with his children, but returned to Portland, where he has steady work.

Mrs. W. J. O'Neil, who visited nearly every large city west of Denver, Col., making her last stops at Seattle and Portland, left the later city, December 20th, for Milwaukee, Wis., where she spent Christmas with the children before returning home to Chicago. Mrs. O'Neil, who was the guest of many Portland deaf, was loved by these who met her; she had a smile which seems to have been born with her. Mrs. O'Neil was expecting her husband from Chicago to join her on a trip to California, but for some unknown reason Mr. O'Neil could not come west. Portland's deaf hope to have the pleasure of their visit again in the not far future, as Mrs. O'Neil really liked the West, especially Portland with its unsurpassed scenery and beautiful highways and snow-capped mountains in the distance.

In spite of a severe snow storm on Saturday, December 31st, over one hundred deaf people turned out for the New Year's Eve Party at the W. O. W. Hall. Everything went off fine, especially the play "Maggie and Jiggs," which everybody enjoyed. It was played by Mrs. B. L. Craven as "Jiggs," and Mrs. C. A. Fisher, as "Maggie." Mrs. Arthur Eden played the part of a pretty young traveling lady. Mr. and Mrs. Darling won the cash prize for the finest waltzer. Sandwiches, cake and coffee was served. A confetti battle went on till nearly one o'clock. Committee in charge were H. P. Nelson, chairman, Chas. Lynch, C. W. Lee, B. Hastings, C. Greenwood, W. F. Cooke and J. O. Reichle.

Those from out of town who attended the event were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lynch, Miss Lotus Valentine, Miss Marion Finch, and Miss Ethel Morton, all of Salem; Mr. Jack Bertram, Mr. P. Wilson, Mr. West and Koberton, from Seattle. Mr. Jim O'Leary, of Spokane, was taken with a cold, which prevented his coming to Portland for the event. After the dance, the Salem and Seattle visitors were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kautz, where they played cards till nearly six A.M. New Year's morn. Some deaf friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Cooke also played "500" the balance of the night. Mr. Bertram stopped with the Nelsons during his stay in Portland for the bowling matches.

The bowling match between Portland and Seattle Silents, on New Year's day at the Recreation Bowling Alley, one of the finest bowling places on the Pacific Coast. The games were really exciting, with the score as follows: Portland Silents 2151, giving Portland the lead with 45 points ahead. Seattle's five were Jack Bertram, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Loney, Peterson and Mr. West. The Portland team consisted of Messrs. C. Lynch, Courtland Greenwald, Rees. Lister Peterson and H. Taylor. About seventy-five deaf witnessed the games. Seattle had to loan two Oregonians, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Loney, who helped the Puget Sound boys get nearly even. Two games were played, the other game coming out a tie. H. P. N. Jan 3, 1928.

Notice to Correspondents

CORRESPONDENTS should try to send their news letters early. Their letters reach the JOURNAL office all at the same time. Therefore some must be left out—that is, their publication postponed. The JOURNAL must be on the press Tuesday at noon. It goes to the post office in mail sacks every Wednesday morning.

The daily newspapers of large cities publish Sunday papers on time. Their contents are in great part put into type and printed through all the preceding week. They are published in sections, and certain sections are printed beforehand. Only the latest news, in condensed form, is printed the night preceding publication. These papers have millions of dollars invested in machinery and other facilities. They employ thousands of trained minds and hands. Brevity in statement is a necessity, otherwise they could not print an intelligible resume of the doings of the day.

Yet the deaf expect the JOURNAL to publish every detail they may write, and object most indignantly if any paragraph is left out.

If all would send news so that it could be put into type throughout the six days of the week preceding publication day, there would be little cause for complaint.

If all would observe the rule that warns against writing on both sides of the sheet of paper; if they would endeavor to be as brief as possible without omitting points; if they would write names of persons and places clearly; then there would be no disappointment and very seldom postponement in the printing of their letters of news.

Let us all cooperate in the promotion of the common good.

ACCORDING to the Ohio Chronicle, Mr. E. A. Stevenson finishes his term as Superintendent of the Minnesota Institution at Faribault, at the close of the school year. It is said that his resignation is caused by being elected superintendent of the California Institution at Berkeley. It is certainly a loss to Minnesota and a decided gain to California, for Mr. Stevenson is very capable, very energetic, and thoroughly understands the deaf and their proper education. He is a son of deaf parents, and from childhood has mingled with them. A fine gentleman of fine parents, so well equipped by education and temperament for the head of an Institution for the education of the deaf, his young manhood gives promise of a future that will place him in the highest rank of his chosen profession. Good luck to Elwood B. Stevenson and congratulations to California.

It is a source of comfort to be informed that Rev. George F. Flick is gradually recovering from what threatened to be a very serious sickness. His work among the Chicago deaf, of both a temporal and spiritual nature, has been very arduous and surely very successful.

May his complete restoration to health and strength be but a matter of time, and the parishioners of his church should see to it that he is thoroughly rested before he resumes his onerous duties.

DETROIT.

News items intended for this column should be sent to Mrs. William Behrendt, 5945 Wayburn Ave., Detroit, Mich. Such news items from Detroiters and vicinity as well as from the deaf of Michigan will be most welcome and have prompt attention.

January 28—Basketball, M. S. D. vs. Ohio School for the Deaf, M. S. D. gymnasium. Game called at 8 p.m.
February 3d—Valentine social at St. John's. Everybody come.
The January thaw is here early this year.

J. Hostnick spent three weeks in Pittsburgh, while work was slack.
Mrs. George Davis has been suffering with infection on her hand, caused from a sliver. It is much better now.

Mrs. B. Dahm is able to be out.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Pastore were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hoffman at Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. Claude McSparrin called there also.

We regret to hear that Rev. F. C. Imielau has been on the sick list.

Mr. Cloyd Stegner looks much happier, these days. The reason is that his wife and daughter helped Santa get him a beautiful seventeen jewel Illinois Central watch and chain, with knife attached. He will be proud to show it to you.

Russell G. Marshall spent the Christmas holidays with his grand parents at Saul Ste. Marie, Ont.

Retiring President Thomas J. Kenney, of the N. F. S. D., was presented with a Fraternal charm for his watch chain, and some money.

The Ladies' Guild of St. John's held a very successful hot supper on the 17th. Mrs. George Davis was chairman.

The annual January meeting of the Detroit Chapter, M. A. D., was called to order by President Heymanson, at P.M., in the G. A. R. Hall, with Grand President Stevens, of Flint, and an unusually large crowd of Detroiters present. President Stevens made a short address and gave Mr. Heymanson much praise for the work he has done for the Detroit Chapter. Treasurer Ozier reported having over $400 to the credit of said chapter. Can any other Michigan chapter beat this? We are waiting for your reply. A committee of five was appointed at President Stevens request to draft rules for all chapters, said committee to appoint one to take them to Flint. Mr. T. J. Kenney was chosen chairman, and hopes to have something definite to present at the next meeting. Mrs. Grace Davis requested the M. A. D. to help her locate Percy Ganger, or Grainger. He is wanted by a lawyer, concerning his mother's estate.

The Detroit chapter voted President Heymanson and recording Secretary Jones each $50, in recognition of their faithful and untiring service. At the election of officers Mr. Heymanson was re-elected president by acclamation, likewise Mr. Buby, secretary, and R. V. Jones recording secretary. On ballot Mrs. W. Behrendt was elected treasurer, and A. Japes, trustee.

Grand President Stevens had the new officers take the oath of office, and soon after a very interesting meeting came to a close.

We hope this will serve to help wake up the sleeping chapters and to remind them that the diamond jubilee is only a little over a year away.

When the time comes we can say, "We have done our duty."

MRS. W. P. BEHRENDT.

NOTICE TO THE MICHIGAN DEAF

To the deaf in the city of Detroit and vicinity and to the deaf in the State of Michigan:—

In order to help Mrs. Gertrude Strand Behrendt make her communications to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL of general interest to ALL, I hereby courteously ask that they will send their items to her. By so doing it will go a long way towards helping her.

I am sure she will give all such items received by her prompt attention. If certain items sometimes do not appear, which have been sent to her for publication in the JOURNAL, remember the fault is not hers. There is a stumbling block that is always stationed at the JOURNAL office, and that is the Editor's blue pencil.

Mrs. Behrendt wishes to do her best to please everyone, but you must do your share of helping her by furnishing the items.

Trusting that you will comply with this earnest request solicited of you, I beg to remain,

Yours sincerely,

GERTRUDE E. M. NELSON
(Pansy)

CHICAGO.

The writer does not mean to take Frank Spear's place as reporter for the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, but at the request of your readers, he sends news items to aid Frank.

Rev. H. Rutherford returned from his preaching tour for the Christmas vacation and resumed travelling in the western States January 3d, to fill his appointments as printed in the Silent Herald. Rev. P. Hasenstab continues his tour in the eastern States and returns every Saturday and conducts church service on Sunday as usual.

Rev. Flick's condition seems to improve, as he walks to and from his physician's office daily while the weather is favorable.

Arthur Meehan has been confined to his home with an ulcer in his eye for one month, but he is out of danger.

Fred Goett has been among those on the sick list for two months, but now he is well and around. He came over with his parents from Austria forty years ago. He is a tailor.

Mrs. J. Roth, who is seriously ill, with a little hope of her recovery, is under the care of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Dunn.

Mrs. G. Hyman, superintendent of the Home for the Aged Deaf, made the inmates happy by distributing gifts among them on Christmas day.

A. Arnot took advantage of the close of his factory for Christmas vacation to go to South Bend, Mich. for a few days with his deaf parents.

The parents of Mrs. Herbert Gunner celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Morgan Park Monday December 26th, their folks and relatives only being present to enliven the occasion.

The members of the official board of the M. E. Mission held an election of new officers for 1928, Saturday, December 31st, as follows: President, F. Martin; 1st Vice President, G. Favorite; 2d Vice President, Mrs. C. Sharpnack; 3d Vice President, Miss Jacob; Recording Secretary, W. Zollinger; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Barry; Treasurer, W. Ryan.

Mrs. F. Meagher spoke at the Hebrew deaf club house December 18th. Everybody was welcome to attend and listened with interest.

A. Walter, a union book cutter, lost the first finger of his left hand last December, by cutting it off on a cutting machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Clark and Mrs. C. Clark (not related to them) came here in their automobile last month, to take in an entertainment to the S. A. C. house, and had the pleasure in meeting old friends at Rev. Hasenstab's Church. They are former pupils of Iowa School for the deaf.

Among out-of-town visitors in this city were Chas. Leehoff, of Iowa; Hallence Meyer, of Clyde, Ohio; John Fitzgerald, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Mark Bishop, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The deaf clubs and deaf missions celebrated the New Year with entertainments to watch the old year departing and New Year coming in. Most of the deaf were kept away by the snow storm.

A benefit party held by Ephpheta Club at the club house, December 17th, was well attended. The proceeds went to the benefit of Ben Taran, who has been bed-ridden for one year. But he is now out of danger and will go to work next Spring, if his health permits.

The oldest son of Pat O'Brien carries his fractured left forearm in a sling, as the result of falling in the gymnasium in the Crane Technical School, last December, when the end of the broken bone stuck through his skin. He was quickly taken to a nearby hospital, where doctors pulled the arm and set the bone.

A banquet, held at the Lutheran Church for the deaf, in celebration of the founding of a new church, was largely attended.

Mr. McCarthy, who works in the factory of the National Biscuit Company, lost the third finger of his right hand last December. While running a filing machine, the dangling sleeve of his shirt became entangled in it, and as a result his hand was pulled into the revolving gear wheels, which mangled his fingers. A doctor was called to amputate one broken finger. He is taking a two months' rest from his work, with pay.

The S. A. C. will have a banquet in the auditorium, Saturday, January 28th. It will cost $1.75 a plate. Those who desire to attend, send money and reservation to J. D. Sullivan, 7916 Ingleside Avenue.

Zach Thompson, associate editor of the Iowa Hawk Eye, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, took advantage of the Christmas vacation to come to Chicago. During his stay, the heaviest snow storm of the year was sweeping over the city and apparently marred his enjoyment of the sights and wonders of the big city. He would have met his old schoolmates, but they were detained at home on that account.

The deaf clubs and deaf missions celebrated Christmas with entertainments and Christmas church services.

Four oral deaf, who returned home from an overnight Christmas festival at the S. A. C. house in an automobile driven by F. Holland, 24 years old, a deaf driver, were badly injured in a collision with a cab driven by a hearing chauffeur, at 51st and Ashland Streets, on Monday, December 26th. Both cars were speeding and the impact hurled the cab fifty feet across the street and the curbing. Edwin Devereux, twenty years old, and Ray Anderson twenty-five years old, deaf passengers, were badly cut and bruised on the face and head. Both were taken to the German Deaconess Hospital, where Edwin died January 2d, from a fractured skull. Ray's eyes are swollen and blue and he will probably be blinded from glass splinters which pierced his eyeballs. Both the drivers were held at a police station and later were released on bonds.

Elections of new officers for 1928 were held at deaf clubs as follows:—Pas-a-Pas Club.—G. O. Erickson, President; E. Marsch, Vice-President; C. B. Kemp, Secretary; T. O. Gray, Treasurer.

Silent Athletic Club.—John D. Sullivan, President; Glenn Smith, Vice-President; Morton Henry, Secretary; H. Leiter, Treasurer.
Chicago Division, No. 1, N. F. S. D.—Leon Clinnen, President; Louis Wallack, Vice-President; Elmer Disz, Secretary; H. Migartz, Treasurer.

Chicago Oral Division, 106, N. F. S. D.—H. Libbey, President; W. Schultz, Vice-President; F. Wirt, Secretary-Treasurer.

Ephpheta Club.—Robert Boyd, President; W. Lucas, Vice-President; John Bulika, Secretary; James O'Brien, Treasurer.

Hebrew Deaf Club.—Louis Wallack, President; L. Ruskin, Vice-President; Peter Livshis, Secretary; H. Kessler, Treasurer.

The Lutheran Deaf Club will hold an election of new officers later.

Los Angeles

Mr. Orlanda Smith suffered a stroke of paralysis, which resulted in his death on December 1st. He was seventy-five years of age and graduated from the school for the deaf at Hartford, Ct. He had been a resident of Los Angeles for the past twenty-seven years. He leaves to mourn, his wife, a step-son and a host of friends accumulated during his three-score and fifteen years of existence.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Lipsett motored to San Diego and Tia Juana, Saturday, December 31st and returned Monday, January 2d. Probably they saw the old man walk out and the baby creep in as in the days before Volstead made a name for himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses M. Cool gave a "500" card party at their home on the evening of Monday, December 26th. The following were the invited guests: Messrs. and Mesdames Chas. C. McMann, E. Saxton Gilmore, Frank Burson, Morton Sonneborn, Julian Singleton, David Brown, Mrs. Walter Eden, Mr. Mauritz Lindstrom and Mr. Harold F. DeVolpi. An exciting round of "500" was played, the prize being won by Mr. David Brown. After the games, refreshments and ice-cream were served. It was past midnight when the guests started for their respective homes, tired but happy at the thought they had an enjoyable evening.

Mr. Herman Janess and son, Evert, who motored from Chicago, arriving here last September, plan to start for their home about the middle of this month. Mr. Janess is on a six months' leave of absence. He says he has immensely enjoyed his visit to southern California and wishes he could make his home here. Mrs. Janess remained in Chicago with the other children.

Mr. James Swan, of Santa Barbara, was a visitor here over the week-end, returning to his home the evening of January the first.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee McKee, of Dallas, Texas, are among the recent arrivals in Los Angeles deafdom. Mr. McKee has secured steady work in a local planning mill and may decide to remain among us.

A group of young deaf-mutes formed a football team and went to Lindsay, Cal., near Fresno, to play the Lindsay High School team on Christmas Day. The score was 7 to 7.

A sister of Mr. Herman Kohn died here on December 3d. Mr. Kohn "flivvered" here from Chicago, arriving here last September. He is doubtful as to whether to stay or again answer the call of adventure.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Elliott, who came to Los Angeles last month from Cincinnati, Ohio, via Portland, Ore., are getting popular among the deaf fraternity in quick time. Mrs. Elliott was educated at the Minnesota School, while Mr. Elliott received his education at the Missouri School. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott were accompanied from Portland by Mr. Oscar Anderson, of Devil's Lake, N. D. They intend to make their home here.

We have among us Mr. George Martin, who is supervisor of older boys at the school for the deaf at Vancouver, Wash. He has been here since last September and will return to his duties when the new school buildings at Vancouver are opened about the first of February, Mr.

Martin graduated from the school for the deaf at Little Rock, Arkansas, and was a teacher in the same school for twenty-seven years. He is a jovial gentleman and we are glad to have him visit us.

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bulmer motored to San Francisco and back, spending three days in the Windy City.

New Year's Eve found quite a lot of deaf gathered at the Los Angeles Social Club, as well as at the Athletic Club of the Deaf. There was music and dancing at the L. A. S. C., while at the A. C. D. games of all sorts were played. As the hour struck twelve at both clubs, confetti, ribbons, ticklers and horns were the vogue.

Flashes from Florida

Florida is coming back—safe, sane and conservative. Instead of the land boom which collapsed after it had reached the pinnacle of monied frenzy, a business boom is being inaugurated which augurs well for the prosperity of the future. Though the Floridians, native and itinerant, have suffered, the state itself has everything that she ever had during the period of inflation and deflation. Florida's future is most optimistic.

Well known to many in United States whom he came into contact with during the periods of his employment as boilerfitter, the news of the death in Tampa of Mr. H. Brewsaugh will come as a great shock to them. Only recently the writer met him there, and he was apparently in excellent health, and his sudden death was a big surprise to him. While details are lacking, it is said that he contracted a severe cold in his lungs, which was later followed by pleurisy. He was taken to a hospital, where he died December 20th, and was buried two days later. Surviving him are Mrs. Brewsaugh and three children, who, with her mother, will return to Kentucky to live. To the sorrowing family heartfelt sympathy is extended in the loss of husband and father.

With school adjourned for the holiday season, to Miami the merry party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kennedy and Mrs. C. W. Kessler, all of Knoxville, Tenn., hied by motor. They traveled by easy stages, and when they reached Florida they breathed a sigh of relief, for they encountered no such mud splashes as were galore in Tennessee and Georgia. It was Mrs. Kennedy's first visit to the land bearing loads of oranges and grapefruit in groves, and Spanish moss that clothe oak trees and pointsettia that are blossoming forth at this time of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will remain in Miami until spring, while Mrs. Kessler will return to Knoxville, where she holds a position as teacher in the State school for the deaf, as soon as her recovery from injuries sustained in an auto collision in Chicago is complete.

Ervin Graves, California, who roams the country observing other cities, can observe none better than his own. It was the opinion of the traveler of the wanderlust type who passed through Florida last November en route to Havana, Cuba. He was educated at the Little Rock (Arkansas) school for the deaf and is a stone cutter by occupation. Strange as it may seem, Mr. Graves carried no luggage of any description nor wore a coat. He made his way from coast to coast partly afoot and partly through the generosity of motorists.

Little did Bert G. Wortman dream as he was bidding his fellowworkers and superiors goodbye on his trip to Florida, when he not only received his fast pay, but was presented with a token of appreciation his honest and faithful application to his work. Mr. C. P. Morton, Manager Rebhun Last Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, expressed the following words in a letter to Mr. Wortman: "I want to convey to you our appreciation of the many years of service that you have given to us, and I assure you that I certainly hate to see you leave us but under existing conditions, as you explained to me, I could not have the heart to prevail upon you to stay, and I most certainly hope that you your dear family will be happy in your new home. You and the writer have been together all these many years, and one of the nice remembrances is to look back and think of our nice friendship during this long period, and I assure you that I will miss you very much. But should you at any time feel as though you would like to come back and if the good Lord spares me if that time should come, I assure you that we will have a place for you. I also want you to accept this little present as a token of friendship from the Rebhun Last Co."

The presentation was made on July 14, 1927. The present proved to be a beautiful white gold (Green) watch, suitably inscribed on the back as follows: "Presented to B. C. W. by The Rebhun Last Co., in Appreciation of nineteen years of Faithful Service 7-12-27." Mr. Wortman is pardonably proud of his timepiece, and we feel certain he would not swap it for one of Mr. Ford's new models.

Gallaudet College

Saturday was New Year's Day. No services were held accordingly in chapel that day and Monday was a legal holiday on Kendall Green as well as elsewhere. But strangely enough, there was absolutely nothing to do on January 2d, and that a holiday, too but to recuperate from the strenuous experience of attending classes for the first time Thursday morning since December 19th. 'Tis true that a handful of hardy Northerners went skating on the Lincoln Memorial Pool, but there were no girls along, so we may consider that excursion a complete fizzle. If Ye Correspondent is not mistaken, there were, however, skating parties on Tuesday and Wednesday, in which Fowler Hall girls figured. Those who went report a simply wonderful time, but Ye Correspondent, being an uncouth igoramus from the South, fails utterly to see how they managed to find exhilaration in skating on fearfully thin ice, which broke off in flees in places.

Sunday night, January 1st, there was "general calling," in which all who desired to went over to Fowler Hall and informed the girls that this year happens to have an extra day in February, and gave them to understand that the business of entertaining was to be confined strictly to the feminine side henceforth.

It was, indeed, with a sigh of relief that the student body resumed its school work, for it's frightfully dull to be doing nothing. "An idle mind is the devil's workshop," but it seems that old Satan himself decided to be idle on that occasion.

The one bright spot of the week was the thorough drubbing our first stringers gave the quint from the Old Dominion Boat Club, Saturday night, January 7th—36 to 25. This is the Kendall Greeners' third consecutive win, and a banner year for the Buff and Blue basketballers is predicted by the newspapers.

It was only through a powerful defense, and the substitution of the reserves for the Gallaudet varsity quint, that prevented the Kendall Greeners from making a runaway score.

The game started off with a rush. Before the visitors seemed to realize it, Dyer, Cosgrove and Hokanson, had scored a basket each in rapid succession. This, however, woke them up, and they planted several of their own; but no matter how much they fought, the lead the Kendall Greeners had gotten was too much for them to overcome. At half time, the score stood at 20 to 8 in the favor of the home team.

The second half was spectacular in that Dyer and Cosgrove scored three goals inside of two minutes of play, and Hokanson followed up with a contribution of his.

The newspapers agree that Cain was the outstanding star of the evening, displaying at the times a splendid brand of defensive playing and all-around floor work. He was the center of all defensive formations, and it was he that did most of the feeding to his roving mates. The spectators were very much taken with his fierce, indomitable spirit, that spurred his teammates to redoubled efforts.

In the last seven minutes of the game, Coach Krug sent in his reserves. Although they acquitted themselves creditably, they were unable to score even a point, while the Old Dominion players, being much more experienced, had little difficulty in scoring six points to diminish the wide margin between the two scores.

Sunday evening, January 8th, Professor Isaac Allison took the platform and regaled the student body with an interesting account of the great Pyramids of Egypt and the marvelous architectural and the mystic prophetic properties of these silent erections. Through Professor Allison, the student body was brought to such a pitch that they actually felt that these Pyramids were invested with a secret force and vitally unknown to mankind.

Students, hurried through the halls two minutes late for recitations, murmured an embarrassed "Good morning, Professor," and took their seats, devoutly hoping the professor wouldn't be discriminating in his quizzing. The wheels of education turned as per schedule, and "all's well along the Potomac," until Wednesday night.

Wednesday night, January 11th, two big buses bore a wildly waving crowd of Kendall Greeners uptown to Catholic University, for on that memorable night, the Buff and Blue tornado would essay to upset the marvelous winning streak the Catholic University has been having. (By the way, as the correspondent writes, Catholic University has annexed eight straight victories to its basketball schedule.)

The Buff and Blue men started off with a breath-taking rush, Dyer and Hokanson and Miller sinking goal after another, until the score stood at 9 to 2 in the first few minutes of the game, Kendall Green being the beneficiary. The scoring spree on the part of the invading horde, awoke the Brooklanders to the serious fact that they had a team playing on their floor that was worthy of their mettle.

Foley, the sensational guard that has graced the C. U. ensemble for the past two years, got busy and started his on a grim rally. Keeping up a stiff upper lip, Foley and Long toiled and sweated, hazarding long shots from midcourt, for the Buff and Blue defense was almost impenetrable. The Brooklanders staggered to a narrow lead at half-time, the score standing at 20 to 17.

The Catholic University men found themselves in the second half and drew away to the final score of 42 to 28.

When Miller scored a beautiful basket on the opening tap-off, he was the first one to draw first blood from Catholic University. By virtue of the brilliant opening Gallaudet made on Catholic University's court, the Buff and Blue quint now occupies an enviable position in the front ranks of D. C. teams.

GALLAUDET TROUNCES CELTICS, 41-19.

Playing for the second time this week, the Buff and Blue won easily over St. Mary's Celtics, in a rough and tumble game on the Kendall Green court. It was one of the rawest games ever played on the home court, falls and fouls being in abundance.

Coach Krug started off with his reserves, the "shock troops" so as to speak. His surprising action on that score was soon justified, for the reserves stirred to a fighting pitch by their mentor's confidence in their ability, swept the visitors off their feet. It gained an early lead of eight points, but by a frenzied exhibition of basketball, both good and bad, the Celtics came within two points of evening with the Buff and Blue aggregation.

Coach Krug deemed it wiser to put in the first stringers at this point, and entire body of spectators applauded his decision. The better dressed first-stringers trotted out on the court and promptly withered the presumptuous Celtics and retired in the waning minutes of third period. The reserves put on the finishing touches and thus ended a perfect day.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

The president of Bronx Silent Bowling Club, John Martin, wishes to announce that the date for the opening of Bronx Silent Bowling Alley, which was mentioned in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL advertisement as January 1, 1928, has been postponed until February 5th. The reason for the postponement was no fault of the committee, but due to conflicting of dates by the Ebling Casino. However, the manager has assured us that the date of February 5th is absolutely fixed. Once more we call your attention to the good features of the bowling alleys at this hall. The establishment is well lighted, is equipped with six alleys and also duck pins for ladies. A restaurant is available, which will help to make this hall more of a social gathering place. Matty Blake is manager of the affair and he will award cash prizes to highest bowling scorers.

HENRY C. KOHLMAN LAID AT REST

The funeral of Henry C. Kohlman, who died on Monday, January 9th, was held at Hornthal's Funeral Parlors on Wednesday, the 11th, at half-past twelve. Only the members of the immediate family and a few relatives and intimate friends were present, besides several school classmates of the Lexington Avenue Institution and long time deaf-mute friends.

The remains were in a beautiful rosewood casket with bronze handles and name plate, which was covered with a blanket of roses, surrounded with a profusion of floral pieces.

The service was intoned and rendered in signs simultaneously, by Rev. John H. Kent, Vicar of St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes.

Quite a long line of automobiles followed the hearse to Salem Fields, where a brief committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Kent. The remains were laid in the Kohlman plot, beside the father and mother he had loved and who had long since passed away.

Among the deaf who were present at the funeral chapel and at the grave were: Mr. and Mrs. Felix A. Simonson, Mr. Samuel Frankenthal, Dr. Thomas F. Fox, Mr. Alex. L. Pach, Mrs. M. W. Loew, Mrs. Osmond Loew, Mr. Marcus L. Kenner, Mr. Sylvester J. Fogarty, Mr. Arthur C. Bachrach, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lef, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hirsch, Mrs. Jacob Amnuth, Mr. Simon Kahn, Mr. Irwin Oppenheimer, Mr. Emil Basch, Mr. Marx Levy, and Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson.

Saturday evening, January 14th, in the Guild Room of St. Ann's, the Clark Deaf-Mutes' Athletic Association held their Casino and Get-together party. Although not advertised on a large scale, the affair was well attended and around the 200 mark. Cash prizes were awarded to the winners. First prize for men went to Mr. Abraham Cohen, while Mr. Joe Arnovich and Mr. Louis Meyer were contented with splitting second prize. The booby prize went to Mr. Julius Iipkin.

The ladies were well represented, which helped to make the affair a social and financial success. Mrs. J. cially speaking, too. Mrs. Joseph Arnovich won first prize, second went to Miss Dora Cohen and Mrs. B. Friedwald. Booby prize was won by Mrs. D. Goodman. As in the past, only the older generation will recall the prestige of the association and its victories on the cinder path, and this affair only tends to show that the Clark Deaf-Mutes' Association is still on the map.

On the second and fourth Sundays of each month, at St. Ann's Church, Rev. Mr. Kent gives readings of "Les Miserables," Victor Hugo's masterpiece. The readings begin at 8.15 in the evening. No admission fee is charged, all are welcome. The arrangement of the readings is such that the original division of the book is followed and the five books correspond to the five epochs in the life of Jean Valjean. Naturally it is a bit difficult to do full justice to the subject, but those who attend will find that no details of the thrilling story are lost and the character delineation follows that of the author with great fidelity. The next reading will be on Sunday evening, January 22d.

Benjamin Shafranek, who is a member of the Clark House quintet, is playing a very remarkable basketball game. In a game played at the Clark House last week with the Henry Street Settlement quintet, Benjamin made most of the points—5 goals and caged 2 fouls, a total of 12 points to his credit. The deaf will be able to see him on Saturday, January 28th, when he will play with the Deaf-Mutes' Union League against the Silent Whirlwind Bradleys Co.

SEATTLE

Walter Divine is, we are happy to say, so far recovered that he is back at school. His face on the right side is still a little paralyzed, and his legs drag a little from the hips. But he can walk, and the doctor says he will be perfectly recovered in time, as his case was a mild one. The many friends of the Divines will rejoice with them that that terrible scourge of childhood did not permanently maim Walter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle left for Los Angeles last week. A very old friend of Mrs. Boyle and her husband will rent the Boyle residence while they are away. Sophia Mullin will continue to live at the house as a boarder of her sister's friends. We hope that a persistent cold of Mrs. Boyle will disappear in the sunny south, and that she will be perfectly recovered when she returns with her husband in the Spring. In the meantime, we are delighted that Sophia is remaining, and that she will be as near as before.

George Hansen, of Hagensborg, B. C., was in Seattle over the holidays making his first trip away from home in fifteen years. He is a graduate of the Minnesota School, class of 1903, and looked up the people that he knew in Minnesota as soon as he arrived in town. He was a schoolmate of Mrs. Dorter, and was very glad to meet her again. The place where he lives in Canada, is quite far north, and is a Norwegian colony of about 300 people, and no deaf people at all, with the exception of one Indian and one uneducated white man.

Mr. Hansen lives alone with his father in a comfortable five-room house, his mother having died two years ago and his sister married shortly afterwards. The people at Hagensborg, which is on the ocean, are industrious fishermen, and Mr. Hansen and his father make from 700 to 1000 dollars a year at this occupation. He also has a dairy business, and raises crops on his farm. He has been having the time of his life here meeting deaf people, and said that the frat party he attended on Saturday was the largest he had ever seen. We think his holiday is well deserved. He left Hagensborg on a freight boat, which made numerous stops, so that it took him five days to reach Vancouver, B. C. whence he came by train.

Jack Bertram, Bryan Wilson and William West were three of our people, who were in Portland over the New Year. The two former went to bowl, but Mr. West just as a visitor.

John Hood was not long ago laid off from his job at Puckett's. He planned for a little vacation, and had given one good stretch and a jawn when he was summoned in haste by his boss and put to work again. And so John is back in the traces again and is not going to have a vacation after all.

Arvid P. Rudnick certainly had hard luck on New Year's Eve. He arrived late in the evening at the University district and roamed over the district looking for the Legion hall as he wished to attend our frat party, but he just could not find that hall which seemed to be playing hide-and-seek with him, with himself always the seeker. At last he gave it up, and went down town to spend the night at a hotel. In the morning he made his way to the Hanson house, where he discovered some of his friends, and was invited to dinner with them. We hope that Arvid will have better luck the next time he comes to attend one of our parties.

The Tacoma Glad Hand Club announces a Hide-and-Seek party at Masonic Hall, to take place February 18th next. Tickets of admission will be 50 cents. Mrs. Rowland is the committee chairman, with Mr. Rowland, Mr. Lowell, Mr. Scanlon and Mrs. Gerson.

Helen Hanson spent a week of her vacation up at Ramier National Park, going this time with the Bremerton Ski Club instead of the mountaineers with whom most of her outings are made. She reports bad weather and a temperate of about 10 below zero most of the time, except for one perfectly beautiful day, nevertheless she had a great time and got in some good practice walking on skis.

Mrs. Victoria Smith yesterday received a telegram from her daughter at North Platte, Neb., telling her of the death of her four-months-old infant daughter. The news has cast a shadow on Mrs. Smith's new year. Her daughter, Mrs. Sterns, has five surviving children. The funeral of the baby will be held today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pickett are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter on December 26th, at Columbus Hospital. This was a real Christmas gift, and we congratulate the young parents.

DENVER

A Watch-Night Party was held at Howe Hall last week. The affair was in charge of T. Y. Northern, Rev. Grace and Leon Harvat. It could not have been a more complete success. In every way it was the best social affair so far. In spite of the extremely cold weather the attendance was large. The writer thinks that in Denver, in proportion to our numbers, the deaf community always turns out heavily to the various social affairs.

Rev. Grace was elected master of ceremonies and put on an "Auto Race" as the "piece de resistance" of the evening. Teams of four, a driver, a mechanic and two passengers, took the name of a popular make of car. The "auto race" was in the form of a series of stunts, representing getting the car started, filling it up with gasoline, blowing up a flat tire, bucking a snow bank, and getting the buggy out of a mudhole. Winners were awarded points in each event, the high-score team getting first prize. Joe Haden with his Buick, carrying James Quinn as mechanic, and Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Harvat as passengers, won the first prize. Each of the winning team was awarded a pound box of fine chocolates. The second car to finish was a Rolls-Royce, piloted by Floyd Cox. He had Glenn Urie as mechanic and Misses Haden and Plomp as passengers. The members of the second team each received a half-pound box of chocolates. Traffic cops were appointed before the game to see that there was no reckless driving and that the "rules of the road" were observed. The game provided a tremendous amount of excitement and amusement.

Half way through the evening everyone present was called up near the end of the room and Rev. Grace mounted the rostrum and made a speech, presenting on behalf of Div. No. 64, a beautiful frat watch charm to past President T. Y. Northern. Rev. Grace told of Mr. Northern's labors to build up the division, and of the work he did as chairman of the convention committee. Mr. Northern had no idea of what had been going on, and felt sure that it would turn out some kind of a joke on him. When presented with the box containing the charm he opened it gingerly, expecting something of the order of a jack-in-the-box to hop out and hit him on the nose. He made a heartfelt speech of thanks to the division members, and said that while the work had been hard and sometimes discouraging, he was content when he saw the results. Not only has Mr. Northern been a pillar and a builder-up in Division No. 64, but in addition, he will go down to fame as the man who piloted the arrangements for one of the best frat conventions ever held.

The social did not break up until a late hour. After the auto race, there were other games, and dancing was indulged in by the younger members and some who were old, but preferred to forget it. So well worked out were the arrangements, that no wall-flowers were permitted to accumulate, everybody in the room being in a game or diversion at some time or other.

As the old year passed out, "Happy New Year" was spelled by every hand, the good old sign-language serving those who desired to say it quicker.

Several were in from out of town, also some boys and girls from the Colorado Springs School, home over the holidays.

The Rev. Homer E. Grace conducted communion service at St. Mark's Church last Sunday. On account of the bitterly cold weather, the attendance was small, so Rev. Grace did not extend the services beyond the essentials. Denver is fortunate in that St. Mark's is almost centrally located at Twelfth and Lincoln Streets. Out-of-town visitors over Sunday should make a point of attending St. Mark's while in town. In that way they can make connections with the rest of our silent community.

A fine social get-together party was held at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harvat, the evening of January 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Harvat are easily the leaders among the younger generation of Denver when it comes to entertaining. Games, new and old, conversation and refreshments, made the hours pass swiftly. It was long after midnight when the party broke up. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Northern, Mr. and Mrs. Tansey, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Speehan, Miss Julia Haden, Joseph Haden, James Quinn, and the host and hostess.

Among the many interesting hobbies indulged in by some of our people is the raising of rabbits for pleasure and profit. Benjamin Cunningham has been doing this for quite a time, and says that while the returns are small for one raising them in the city, still he has had a steady income and much pleasure from his hobby. He has specialized in Belgians and New Zealand in the past, but intends to branch out into Chinchillas later.

Business in general is very dull in Denver, and many of the deaf folks having quite an interesting time to make ends meet. While some of those we know turn the corner every week by a narrow margin, still we have no actual cases of hardship. This condition is by no means confined to Denver. We are told the same by our various correspondents in other parts of the country. On the whole, the writer thinks Colorado is better off than some places we could mention. The lack of large industries and sufficient factories in and around Denver makes it difficult for unskilled labor to find employment. On the other hand, we are not bothered with a large floating population periodically finding nothing to do.

Rev. Homer E. Grace went to Akron, Col., for a few days last week on personal business.

Jim Quinn has returned from Grand Valley, Col., where he went over the holidays. Jimmy had expected work to be rushing on the big newspapers when he got back, but found it otherwise, an extra couple of situation-holders being slid back on the board. That pushed him further down toward the cellar. Printers, pass up Denver for a while.

Local Frats were glad to see Nick Rodriguez at the watch-night social. Nick has had considerable hard luck during the year, ending with the loss of his left eye. He is back to normal now, as pleasant and cheerful as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Northern made a social call on Rev. and Mrs. Grace this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fraser and two children, of Gill, Col., spent the Christmas and New Year holidays in Denver. Mr. Fraser is a very successful farmer, using progressive methods and up-to-date machinery in his work.

FANWOOD

The Fanwood first team played a game with the Fanwood Alumni team. Our star player, Leopold Port, had a sprained ankle, but he played very well. The score in the first half was 25 to 26 in favor of the Alumni team. In the second half, both teams played very rough. The final score was 51 to 43, in favor of Fanwood.

Messrs. Ben Shafranek, '24, Eddie Kervin, '26, and John Kostyk, '27, all former star forwards for the Fanwood team during their year in this school, starred for the Fanwood Alumni team.

FANWOOD ALUMNI

The Fanwood Alumni Association held its quarterly meeting in the spacious girls' sitting room of the Fanwood School, on Saturday evening, January 14th. There was a large attendance present.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, held last October, the secretary, Miss Alice E. Judge, submitted to the association several matters of import, which the board had discussed at a meeting held on December 10th. Several of these were approved, but one important matter, after some discussion, was laid on the table to be taken up at a further meeting.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the annual dinner, commemorating the 110th anniversary of the founding of the Fanwood School in April. This committee will make a report at the next meeting on March 9, 1928.

After the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed, and some took part in parlor games, which were managed by the social committee. Coffee and cake were served to the members.

At eleven the meeting was over, and all departed. Some went direct to their homes, but at a restaurant not far from the school were gathered several parties, and here they renewed old times spent at their Alma Mater and discussed other topics.

Taken all in all, these meetings of the Fanwood Alumni Association are getting more and more interesting, and better attended, but there are still many who have not come into its fold. However, here's hoping they do so eventually.

PHILADELPHIA

Through the generosity of friends of All Souls Church, a fine moving-picture machine was recently obtained through the efforts of the Pastor, Rev. Warren M. Smaltz, and will be used as often as opportunity allows to provide instructive and enjoyable entertainment in the Parish House. Shows will be given on Thursday and Saturday evenings for some time to come, which, with few exceptions, will be free to all. Those on Thursday evening will immediately follow the Cleric Literary Association meeting; the exceptions will be at special entertainments. Although we saw no announcement made as to the way the church will meet the expense of hiring films, when that becomes necessary, we believe it will be met by the free-will offerings of the people. As the shows are not intended as money-making affairs the people can still help by volunteer contributions and thus to provide continuous entertainment. Here is a chance for all to pull together. Bishop Thomas J. Garland will visit All Souls' Church for the Deaf and administer the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday afternoon February 5th. Rev. Warren M. Smaltz is preparing a class and will be pleased to meet any one who wishes to join it. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fowler on Sunday, January 15th.

After the communion service at All Souls' Church on Sunday, January 15th, the people met in the auditorium of the Parish House, where motion pictures that showed the various work of the Episcopal Church in the Pennsylvania Diocese were given.

The films were loaned to us by the Diocese and prove very interesting, showing the charities and other welfare work carried on by the Episcopal Church. Few people know the extent of the work by the Church, hence the more surprising were the pictures shown.

Miss Gertrude M. Downey left the hospital on Monday, a week, to convalesce at home. She has been living with Mrs. Alice E. Breen for a good many years.

Philadelphia friends of the Torredale Home are hereby reminded of the vaudeville entertainment, under the auspices of the Gallaudet Club, for the benefit of the Home at All Souls' Parish House on Saturday evening, January 21st, Admission, 35 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Partington spent last Sunday, 8th, in Washington, D. C., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Lowell. It was a very enjoyable time to both.

Mr. Willard Broomall did not report for work all last week, and from it we infer that he has been sick.

Beth Israel Association for the Deaf held a business meeting on January 8th, and recitations on the 15th.

For a number of years past, Mr. Charles Partington's work as an engraver for newspapers required his services every Sunday evening as well as on week day evenings. He worked faithfully and uncomplainingly through all the years, tearing himself away from his family and home every Sunday afternoon to report for duty early in the evening. Feeling that he had waited long enough for relief from Sunday work, he recently applied for a change and, as a result, is no longer required to report on Sundays. On a scarcely imagine the pleasure it gives Mr. Partington to have one evening in the week entirely free to himself.

The reason that new Lutheran Mission gets so little notice in this column, is because no one connected with it sends us information for publication. We wish to make it clear again that we treat all missions alike in our weekly reports.

Mr. W. L. Davis' damage suit is likely to coming up in court this week or some day before long.

The Philadelphia Record, January 9th, reported the following item. We present it entire, being the only information we have—

"Swiftly moving hands accompanied the sonorous intonations of the priests last night at the first service of a mission for deaf-mutes, conducted this week at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Thirteenth Street above Chestnut."

Several hundred deaf-mutes from this city and vicinity nearly filled the church to attend the devotions conducted by Rev. Henry Waldhaus, of Cincinnati, who has specialized in this form of service for many years, and the rector, Monsignor Francis X. Wastl.

During the service the words were spoken and interpreted in the sign language simultaneously by the priests, and the responses were made by signs. Father Waldhaus then preached a short sermon in the sign language.

The Board of Managers of the P. S. A. D. will meet at All Souls' Parish House next Saturday evening, January 21st.

We may well wonder at the variety of weather we get this winter. Christmas and New Year's Day were bright and cold—yes, cold enough; but the past week was extremely mild in temperature, so unlike winter.

But who can tell what is yet to come this way?

Under certain circumstances nothing is so tortuous as a vivid imagination.
